

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE

BY TELEGRAPH

GRANT'S STORY.

Extracts From Advance Sheets of General Grant's Book—The Story of His Life.

His Ancestry, Early Days and First Introduction Into the Service of His Country.

A Glimpse of Some of His Battles, Upsetting Many Popular Stories and Sifting Facts From Fiction.

New York, June 9.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes extracts from General Grant's forthcoming book, which will be entitled "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant." The book will be in two volumes of about five hundred pages each. The first volume and nearly all the second are now written. The book will, it is claimed, contain the inside history of several important operations hitherto undervalued or incorrectly described. The dedication of the work is in the following words:

"The volumes are dedicated to the American soldier and sailor."
[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

"New York, May 23, 1885."
In describing his origin, General Grant says he is of the eighth generation in descent from Matthew Grant, who came to America from Dorchester, Eng., in 1630, and settled at Dorchester, Mass. General Grant's great-grandfather, Noah Grant, was an officer in the English army in the war of 1765 against the French and Indians, and his grandfather, Noah Grant, fought in the revolution against England.

Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. He received his appointment at West Point through Hon. Thomas Morris, Senator from Ohio. The fact that he had no early learning toward military life is shown by his first writing to refuse the appointment. His father, a man not to be refused, told him to go, and he went. His reluctance arose from a fear that he would not pass the examination. On May 24, 1857, Grant wrote to the Adjutant-General, offering the Government his military service in any capacity. No notice was taken of the letter, and it is not preserved in the files of the War Department. General Grant, in describing his first meeting with the enemy, when he commanded a regiment, naively admits that he was very much frightened, and that he was not at all prepared for the work. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer.

Senator Logan called on President Cleveland yesterday and remained at the White House half an hour, during which time the Democratic office hunters, who constantly besiege that citadel of their hopes, were compelled to wait in the ante-room, to their intense disgust. While Senator Logan was paying his respects to the president the veterans were firing their salute in honor of the former's election, the guns being placed in the grounds south of the Washington monument, and near the White House.

The axe has fallen upon the neck of another "offensive partisan" in Illinois—District Attorney Connolly—who has been suspended and Gustavus Van Moorebeck appointed in his stead. The appointment of this man of Hollandish and outlandish patronymic has struck the Springfield bosses all in a heap, so to speak, and they are not exactly certain yet as to what hurt them, but they take it as a slap at the capital regency, and while they are not feeling as good as they did a week ago they feel some degree of relief in the reflection that though Morrison can get appointments for his friends he could not get a senatorship for himself. When they think of how the 34th district took the breath out of the Waterloo statesman they are much comforted.

If the following, which appears in the New York Tribune, is absolutely true—and there appears no reason to doubt the story—it affords an argument against the management of affairs in some quarters which needs no elaboration:

Mr. Stephenson is an old soldier and served for a long time as chief of the middle division of the Pension Office. He has an excellent record, both as an officer and civil employe of the Government. In some way, however, he had managed to incur the displeasure and hostility of Col. Morrison. In fact, there can be no doubt but that his discharge was due directly to Morrison's demand for his scale. At any rate, Gen. Black sent for Col. Stephenson a few days ago and requested his resignation. It was handed to the Commissioner without a word. I don't know whether Gen. Black felt any pang at thus treating a man who had borne arms with him in the same cause and had been a faithful soldier. He moved nervously in his seat, and, after clearing his throat, said, soothingly:

"Colonel, you are an able-bodied man. You won't have any trouble in getting along in the world."
"Well, Mr. Commissioner," Col. Stephenson replied quietly, "I don't at least make capital out of my disabilities as some men do [here the Commissioner seemed to wince]; and if I appear to others to be able-bodied it is because I do not talk as much about my wounds as I ought to, perhaps. This I will say, however, that I have been wounded in four places, and that I suffer from these wounds more now than I should ever wish my worst enemies to suffer."

Mr. Stephenson was about to rise and bow himself out when Gen. Black begged him to be seated, and, in blubbing accents, his voice choked with tears, began to tell the Colonel that his dismissal had been insisted upon by others—men high in power and of much influence—and that the pressure brought to bear upon him was greater than he had been able to withstand; that it was not his work; that it went against his grain; and more to the same effect. Pahaw; it must have been disgusting.

We have no "Che up Sales Day," but give our customers the best bargains we can. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

Attention, 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. All members of the old 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. are respectfully requested to meet at the court house in Decatur, Ill., at 11 o'clock a. m., July 4, 1885.

N. M. BAKER, Sec'y. June 8 (1885)

We have ten styles of Ladies' shoes, 9-dtf

Brooklyn Suits, a specialty, at Cheap Charley's. 4-dwtf

Try and read Cheap Charley's advertisement. 4-dwtf

We are glad to see that some of our competitors are handling goods. We have kept that kind for several years and know that it pays. 2-dwtf

MENDING neatly and promptly done at Buscher & Hutchins. 4-dwtf

We carry Selz, Schwab & Co's fine shoes. We are sole agents for Decatur. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

BY TELEGRAPH

GRANT'S STORY.

Extracts From Advance Sheets of General Grant's Book—The Story of His Life.

His Ancestry, Early Days and First Introduction Into the Service of His Country.

A Glimpse of Some of His Battles, Upsetting Many Popular Stories and Sifting Facts From Fiction.

New York, June 9.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes extracts from General Grant's forthcoming book, which will be entitled "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant." The book will be in two volumes of about five hundred pages each. The first volume and nearly all the second are now written. The book will, it is claimed, contain the inside history of several important operations hitherto undervalued or incorrectly described. The dedication of the work is in the following words:

"The volumes are dedicated to the American soldier and sailor."
[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

"New York, May 23, 1885."
In describing his origin, General Grant says he is of the eighth generation in descent from Matthew Grant, who came to America from Dorchester, Eng., in 1630, and settled at Dorchester, Mass. General Grant's great-grandfather, Noah Grant, was an officer in the English army in the war of 1765 against the French and Indians, and his grandfather, Noah Grant, fought in the revolution against England.

Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. He received his appointment at West Point through Hon. Thomas Morris, Senator from Ohio. The fact that he had no early learning toward military life is shown by his first writing to refuse the appointment. His father, a man not to be refused, told him to go, and he went. His reluctance arose from a fear that he would not pass the examination. On May 24, 1857, Grant wrote to the Adjutant-General, offering the Government his military service in any capacity. No notice was taken of the letter, and it is not preserved in the files of the War Department. General Grant, in describing his first meeting with the enemy, when he commanded a regiment, naively admits that he was very much frightened, and that he was not at all prepared for the work. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer.

Senator Logan called on President Cleveland yesterday and remained at the White House half an hour, during which time the Democratic office hunters, who constantly besiege that citadel of their hopes, were compelled to wait in the ante-room, to their intense disgust. While Senator Logan was paying his respects to the president the veterans were firing their salute in honor of the former's election, the guns being placed in the grounds south of the Washington monument, and near the White House.

The axe has fallen upon the neck of another "offensive partisan" in Illinois—District Attorney Connolly—who has been suspended and Gustavus Van Moorebeck appointed in his stead. The appointment of this man of Hollandish and outlandish patronymic has struck the Springfield bosses all in a heap, so to speak, and they are not exactly certain yet as to what hurt them, but they take it as a slap at the capital regency, and while they are not feeling as good as they did a week ago they feel some degree of relief in the reflection that though Morrison can get appointments for his friends he could not get a senatorship for himself. When they think of how the 34th district took the breath out of the Waterloo statesman they are much comforted.

If the following, which appears in the New York Tribune, is absolutely true—and there appears no reason to doubt the story—it affords an argument against the management of affairs in some quarters which needs no elaboration:

Mr. Stephenson is an old soldier and served for a long time as chief of the middle division of the Pension Office. He has an excellent record, both as an officer and civil employe of the Government. In some way, however, he had managed to incur the displeasure and hostility of Col. Morrison. In fact, there can be no doubt but that his discharge was due directly to Morrison's demand for his scale. At any rate, Gen. Black sent for Col. Stephenson a few days ago and requested his resignation. It was handed to the Commissioner without a word. I don't know whether Gen. Black felt any pang at thus treating a man who had borne arms with him in the same cause and had been a faithful soldier. He moved nervously in his seat, and, after clearing his throat, said, soothingly:

"Colonel, you are an able-bodied man. You won't have any trouble in getting along in the world."
"Well, Mr. Commissioner," Col. Stephenson replied quietly, "I don't at least make capital out of my disabilities as some men do [here the Commissioner seemed to wince]; and if I appear to others to be able-bodied it is because I do not talk as much about my wounds as I ought to, perhaps. This I will say, however, that I have been wounded in four places, and that I suffer from these wounds more now than I should ever wish my worst enemies to suffer."

Mr. Stephenson was about to rise and bow himself out when Gen. Black begged him to be seated, and, in blubbing accents, his voice choked with tears, began to tell the Colonel that his dismissal had been insisted upon by others—men high in power and of much influence—and that the pressure brought to bear upon him was greater than he had been able to withstand; that it was not his work; that it went against his grain; and more to the same effect. Pahaw; it must have been disgusting.

We have no "Che up Sales Day," but give our customers the best bargains we can. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

Attention, 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. All members of the old 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. are respectfully requested to meet at the court house in Decatur, Ill., at 11 o'clock a. m., July 4, 1885.

N. M. BAKER, Sec'y. June 8 (1885)

We have ten styles of Ladies' shoes, 9-dtf

Brooklyn Suits, a specialty, at Cheap Charley's. 4-dwtf

Try and read Cheap Charley's advertisement. 4-dwtf

We are glad to see that some of our competitors are handling goods. We have kept that kind for several years and know that it pays. 2-dwtf

MENDING neatly and promptly done at Buscher & Hutchins. 4-dwtf

We carry Selz, Schwab & Co's fine shoes. We are sole agents for Decatur. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

BY TELEGRAPH

GRANT'S STORY.

Extracts From Advance Sheets of General Grant's Book—The Story of His Life.

His Ancestry, Early Days and First Introduction Into the Service of His Country.

A Glimpse of Some of His Battles, Upsetting Many Popular Stories and Sifting Facts From Fiction.

New York, June 9.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes extracts from General Grant's forthcoming book, which will be entitled "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant." The book will be in two volumes of about five hundred pages each. The first volume and nearly all the second are now written. The book will, it is claimed, contain the inside history of several important operations hitherto undervalued or incorrectly described. The dedication of the work is in the following words:

"The volumes are dedicated to the American soldier and sailor."
[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

"New York, May 23, 1885."
In describing his origin, General Grant says he is of the eighth generation in descent from Matthew Grant, who came to America from Dorchester, Eng., in 1630, and settled at Dorchester, Mass. General Grant's great-grandfather, Noah Grant, was an officer in the English army in the war of 1765 against the French and Indians, and his grandfather, Noah Grant, fought in the revolution against England.

Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. He received his appointment at West Point through Hon. Thomas Morris, Senator from Ohio. The fact that he had no early learning toward military life is shown by his first writing to refuse the appointment. His father, a man not to be refused, told him to go, and he went. His reluctance arose from a fear that he would not pass the examination. On May 24, 1857, Grant wrote to the Adjutant-General, offering the Government his military service in any capacity. No notice was taken of the letter, and it is not preserved in the files of the War Department. General Grant, in describing his first meeting with the enemy, when he commanded a regiment, naively admits that he was very much frightened, and that he was not at all prepared for the work. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer.

Senator Logan called on President Cleveland yesterday and remained at the White House half an hour, during which time the Democratic office hunters, who constantly besiege that citadel of their hopes, were compelled to wait in the ante-room, to their intense disgust. While Senator Logan was paying his respects to the president the veterans were firing their salute in honor of the former's election, the guns being placed in the grounds south of the Washington monument, and near the White House.

The axe has fallen upon the neck of another "offensive partisan" in Illinois—District Attorney Connolly—who has been suspended and Gustavus Van Moorebeck appointed in his stead. The appointment of this man of Hollandish and outlandish patronymic has struck the Springfield bosses all in a heap, so to speak, and they are not exactly certain yet as to what hurt them, but they take it as a slap at the capital regency, and while they are not feeling as good as they did a week ago they feel some degree of relief in the reflection that though Morrison can get appointments for his friends he could not get a senatorship for himself. When they think of how the 34th district took the breath out of the Waterloo statesman they are much comforted.

If the following, which appears in the New York Tribune, is absolutely true—and there appears no reason to doubt the story—it affords an argument against the management of affairs in some quarters which needs no elaboration:

Mr. Stephenson is an old soldier and served for a long time as chief of the middle division of the Pension Office. He has an excellent record, both as an officer and civil employe of the Government. In some way, however, he had managed to incur the displeasure and hostility of Col. Morrison. In fact, there can be no doubt but that his discharge was due directly to Morrison's demand for his scale. At any rate, Gen. Black sent for Col. Stephenson a few days ago and requested his resignation. It was handed to the Commissioner without a word. I don't know whether Gen. Black felt any pang at thus treating a man who had borne arms with him in the same cause and had been a faithful soldier. He moved nervously in his seat, and, after clearing his throat, said, soothingly:

"Colonel, you are an able-bodied man. You won't have any trouble in getting along in the world."
"Well, Mr. Commissioner," Col. Stephenson replied quietly, "I don't at least make capital out of my disabilities as some men do [here the Commissioner seemed to wince]; and if I appear to others to be able-bodied it is because I do not talk as much about my wounds as I ought to, perhaps. This I will say, however, that I have been wounded in four places, and that I suffer from these wounds more now than I should ever wish my worst enemies to suffer."

Mr. Stephenson was about to rise and bow himself out when Gen. Black begged him to be seated, and, in blubbing accents, his voice choked with tears, began to tell the Colonel that his dismissal had been insisted upon by others—men high in power and of much influence—and that the pressure brought to bear upon him was greater than he had been able to withstand; that it was not his work; that it went against his grain; and more to the same effect. Pahaw; it must have been disgusting.

We have no "Che up Sales Day," but give our customers the best bargains we can. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

Attention, 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. All members of the old 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. are respectfully requested to meet at the court house in Decatur, Ill., at 11 o'clock a. m., July 4, 1885.

N. M. BAKER, Sec'y. June 8 (1885)

We have ten styles of Ladies' shoes, 9-dtf

Brooklyn Suits, a specialty, at Cheap Charley's. 4-dwtf

Try and read Cheap Charley's advertisement. 4-dwtf

We are glad to see that some of our competitors are handling goods. We have kept that kind for several years and know that it pays. 2-dwtf

MENDING neatly and promptly done at Buscher & Hutchins. 4-dwtf

We carry Selz, Schwab & Co's fine shoes. We are sole agents for Decatur. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

BY TELEGRAPH

GRANT'S STORY.

Extracts From Advance Sheets of General Grant's Book—The Story of His Life.

His Ancestry, Early Days and First Introduction Into the Service of His Country.

A Glimpse of Some of His Battles, Upsetting Many Popular Stories and Sifting Facts From Fiction.

New York, June 9.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes extracts from General Grant's forthcoming book, which will be entitled "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant." The book will be in two volumes of about five hundred pages each. The first volume and nearly all the second are now written. The book will, it is claimed, contain the inside history of several important operations hitherto undervalued or incorrectly described. The dedication of the work is in the following words:

"The volumes are dedicated to the American soldier and sailor."
[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

"New York, May 23, 1885."
In describing his origin, General Grant says he is of the eighth generation in descent from Matthew Grant, who came to America from Dorchester, Eng., in 1630, and settled at Dorchester, Mass. General Grant's great-grandfather, Noah Grant, was an officer in the English army in the war of 1765 against the French and Indians, and his grandfather, Noah Grant, fought in the revolution against England.

Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. He received his appointment at West Point through Hon. Thomas Morris, Senator from Ohio. The fact that he had no early learning toward military life is shown by his first writing to refuse the appointment. His father, a man not to be refused, told him to go, and he went. His reluctance arose from a fear that he would not pass the examination. On May 24, 1857, Grant wrote to the Adjutant-General, offering the Government his military service in any capacity. No notice was taken of the letter, and it is not preserved in the files of the War Department. General Grant, in describing his first meeting with the enemy, when he commanded a regiment, naively admits that he was very much frightened, and that he was not at all prepared for the work. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer.

Senator Logan called on President Cleveland yesterday and remained at the White House half an hour, during which time the Democratic office hunters, who constantly besiege that citadel of their hopes, were compelled to wait in the ante-room, to their intense disgust. While Senator Logan was paying his respects to the president the veterans were firing their salute in honor of the former's election, the guns being placed in the grounds south of the Washington monument, and near the White House.

The axe has fallen upon the neck of another "offensive partisan" in Illinois—District Attorney Connolly—who has been suspended and Gustavus Van Moorebeck appointed in his stead. The appointment of this man of Hollandish and outlandish patronymic has struck the Springfield bosses all in a heap, so to speak, and they are not exactly certain yet as to what hurt them, but they take it as a slap at the capital regency, and while they are not feeling as good as they did a week ago they feel some degree of relief in the reflection that though Morrison can get appointments for his friends he could not get a senatorship for himself. When they think of how the 34th district took the breath out of the Waterloo statesman they are much comforted.

If the following, which appears in the New York Tribune, is absolutely true—and there appears no reason to doubt the story—it affords an argument against the management of affairs in some quarters which needs no elaboration:

Mr. Stephenson is an old soldier and served for a long time as chief of the middle division of the Pension Office. He has an excellent record, both as an officer and civil employe of the Government. In some way, however, he had managed to incur the displeasure and hostility of Col. Morrison. In fact, there can be no doubt but that his discharge was due directly to Morrison's demand for his scale. At any rate, Gen. Black sent for Col. Stephenson a few days ago and requested his resignation. It was handed to the Commissioner without a word. I don't know whether Gen. Black felt any pang at thus treating a man who had borne arms with him in the same cause and had been a faithful soldier. He moved nervously in his seat, and, after clearing his throat, said, soothingly:

"Colonel, you are an able-bodied man. You won't have any trouble in getting along in the world."
"Well, Mr. Commissioner," Col. Stephenson replied quietly, "I don't at least make capital out of my disabilities as some men do [here the Commissioner seemed to wince]; and if I appear to others to be able-bodied it is because I do not talk as much about my wounds as I ought to, perhaps. This I will say, however, that I have been wounded in four places, and that I suffer from these wounds more now than I should ever wish my worst enemies to suffer."

Mr. Stephenson was about to rise and bow himself out when Gen. Black begged him to be seated, and, in blubbing accents, his voice choked with tears, began to tell the Colonel that his dismissal had been insisted upon by others—men high in power and of much influence—and that the pressure brought to bear upon him was greater than he had been able to withstand; that it was not his work; that it went against his grain; and more to the same effect. Pahaw; it must have been disgusting.

We have no "Che up Sales Day," but give our customers the best bargains we can. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

Attention, 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. All members of the old 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. are respectfully requested to meet at the court house in Decatur, Ill., at 11 o'clock a. m., July 4, 1885.

N. M. BAKER, Sec'y. June 8 (1885)

We have ten styles of Ladies' shoes, 9-dtf

Brooklyn Suits, a specialty, at Cheap Charley's. 4-dwtf

Try and read Cheap Charley's advertisement. 4-dwtf

We are glad to see that some of our competitors are handling goods. We have kept that kind for several years and know that it pays. 2-dwtf

MENDING neatly and promptly done at Buscher & Hutchins. 4-dwtf

We carry Selz, Schwab & Co's fine shoes. We are sole agents for Decatur. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

BY TELEGRAPH

GRANT'S STORY.

Extracts From Advance Sheets of General Grant's Book—The Story of His Life.

His Ancestry, Early Days and First Introduction Into the Service of His Country.

A Glimpse of Some of His Battles, Upsetting Many Popular Stories and Sifting Facts From Fiction.

New York, June 9.—The Commercial Advertiser publishes extracts from General Grant's forthcoming book, which will be entitled "Personal Memoirs of U. S. Grant." The book will be in two volumes of about five hundred pages each. The first volume and nearly all the second are now written. The book will, it is claimed, contain the inside history of several important operations hitherto undervalued or incorrectly described. The dedication of the work is in the following words:

"The volumes are dedicated to the American soldier and sailor."
[Signed] U. S. GRANT.

"New York, May 23, 1885."
In describing his origin, General Grant says he is of the eighth generation in descent from Matthew Grant, who came to America from Dorchester, Eng., in 1630, and settled at Dorchester, Mass. General Grant's great-grandfather, Noah Grant, was an officer in the English army in the war of 1765 against the French and Indians, and his grandfather, Noah Grant, fought in the revolution against England.

Grant was born at Point Pleasant, Ohio. He received his appointment at West Point through Hon. Thomas Morris, Senator from Ohio. The fact that he had no early learning toward military life is shown by his first writing to refuse the appointment. His father, a man not to be refused, told him to go, and he went. His reluctance arose from a fear that he would not pass the examination. On May 24, 1857, Grant wrote to the Adjutant-General, offering the Government his military service in any capacity. No notice was taken of the letter, and it is not preserved in the files of the War Department. General Grant, in describing his first meeting with the enemy, when he commanded a regiment, naively admits that he was very much frightened, and that he was not at all prepared for the work. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer. He was the only officer of the regiment who was not a volunteer.

Senator Logan called on President Cleveland yesterday and remained at the White House half an hour, during which time the Democratic office hunters, who constantly besiege that citadel of their hopes, were compelled to wait in the ante-room, to their intense disgust. While Senator Logan was paying his respects to the president the veterans were firing their salute in honor of the former's election, the guns being placed in the grounds south of the Washington monument, and near the White House.

The axe has fallen upon the neck of another "offensive partisan" in Illinois—District Attorney Connolly—who has been suspended and Gustavus Van Moorebeck appointed in his stead. The appointment of this man of Hollandish and outlandish patronymic has struck the Springfield bosses all in a heap, so to speak, and they are not exactly certain yet as to what hurt them, but they take it as a slap at the capital regency, and while they are not feeling as good as they did a week ago they feel some degree of relief in the reflection that though Morrison can get appointments for his friends he could not get a senatorship for himself. When they think of how the 34th district took the breath out of the Waterloo statesman they are much comforted.

If the following, which appears in the New York Tribune, is absolutely true—and there appears no reason to doubt the story—it affords an argument against the management of affairs in some quarters which needs no elaboration:

Mr. Stephenson is an old soldier and served for a long time as chief of the middle division of the Pension Office. He has an excellent record, both as an officer and civil employe of the Government. In some way, however, he had managed to incur the displeasure and hostility of Col. Morrison. In fact, there can be no doubt but that his discharge was due directly to Morrison's demand for his scale. At any rate, Gen. Black sent for Col. Stephenson a few days ago and requested his resignation. It was handed to the Commissioner without a word. I don't know whether Gen. Black felt any pang at thus treating a man who had borne arms with him in the same cause and had been a faithful soldier. He moved nervously in his seat, and, after clearing his throat, said, soothingly:

"Colonel, you are an able-bodied man. You won't have any trouble in getting along in the world."
"Well, Mr. Commissioner," Col. Stephenson replied quietly, "I don't at least make capital out of my disabilities as some men do [here the Commissioner seemed to wince]; and if I appear to others to be able-bodied it is because I do not talk as much about my wounds as I ought to, perhaps. This I will say, however, that I have been wounded in four places, and that I suffer from these wounds more now than I should ever wish my worst enemies to suffer."

Mr. Stephenson was about to rise and bow himself out when Gen. Black begged him to be seated, and, in blubbing accents, his voice choked with tears, began to tell the Colonel that his dismissal had been insisted upon by others—men high in power and of much influence—and that the pressure brought to bear upon him was greater than he had been able to withstand; that it was not his work; that it went against his grain; and more to the same effect. Pahaw; it must have been disgusting.

We have no "Che up Sales Day," but give our customers the best bargains we can. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

Attention, 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. All members of the old 116th Reg., Ill. Vol. are respectfully requested to meet at the court house in Decatur, Ill., at 11 o'clock a. m., July 4, 1885.

N. M. BAKER, Sec'y. June 8 (1885)

We have ten styles of Ladies' shoes, 9-dtf

Brooklyn Suits, a specialty, at Cheap Charley's. 4-dwtf

Try and read Cheap Charley's advertisement. 4-dwtf

We are glad to see that some of our competitors are handling goods. We have kept that kind for several years and know that it pays. 2-dwtf

MENDING neatly and promptly done at Buscher & Hutchins. 4-dwtf

We carry Selz, Schwab & Co's fine shoes. We are sole agents for Decatur. J. H. BLACK & SON. 9-dtf

s of KS,
s. com.
25.
final, at
an 65c.
reduced
OO and $1.35.
om 25c
nets re-
CO. ons
Goods.
e an indue
on have seen
D., ELERS.
at the Cin
82, '83, '84
in opinion of
stoves made,
old & Co.
ILE
S.
OODS.
eason's
excess
OVE
ORE.
Co.

EVERY MAN,
old or young, should see the newest thing in
CUFF BUTTONS.
It holds the cuff to the sleeve band without the aid of a "top button. See them and you will have no other.

OTTO E. CURTIS & CO.,
LEADING JEWELERS.

GO TO BREWER'S
For Good Bread,
CAKES, PIES, Etc. Everything made at Brewer's is as choice as can be found anywhere.
Wedding Cakes a Specialty.
BREWER THE BAKER,
211 North Main St., Decatur, Ill.

THE A. & W. MONARCH,
The Most Complete Gasoline Stove Made.

Call and examine this Stove whether you want to buy or not. It will interest you.
Sold only by
FERGUSON & DILLEHUNT
125 North Water Street.

FRESH and sweet buttermilk for sale at the poultry depot, 221 North Main street, delivered in any part of the city, at 10c per gallon. Telephone 322. 19-dit

Men's Low Cut Shoes at half-price at Busher & Hutchins. 4-dit

For birthday presents, buy a Gent's
Flocking jacket at B. Stine's. 4-dit

Use Black Wire Cloth for your screen doors and windows. You will like it better than any other color. Sold by Morehouse, Wells & Co. 29-dit

SPECIAL sale to-day and to-morrow in Men's Fine Shoes at Busher & Hutchins.
4-dit

REDUCED rates to Kansas and Nebraska via the Illinois Central, Peoria, Decatur & Evansville and Illinois Midland railways. For rates and general information, call on or write to
H. W. Shimer, ticket agent, Union Depot.
3-wks

Dr. J. Brown will pay cash for a first-class horse; must not weigh less than 1200 pounds, nor be over 7 years old.
June 6-dit

The Daily Republican.

TERMS.
For week, payable to Carrier, 10 Cts.
One year, in advance, $5.00
Six Months, " 3.00
Three Months, " 1.50

TUESDAY EVE, JUNE 9, 1885.

LOCAL NEWS.

If you want to keep your meats, butter and milk cold and sweet, buy an Alaska Refrigerator of
E. D. BARTHOLOMEW & Co.
Jack Knife Shoes. 9-dit

The county board is in session.
The "Two Orphans" to-night at the Opera House.

Rise up Niedermeyer on the Mound
and order home grown strawberries.
Go to Peck & Co's for those elegant Blue Mound strawberries.

The Jack-knife Shoe is the shoe for you. J. H. Black & Son. 9-dit

See the Ethel Tucker company to-night in the "Two Orphans."

We have the best $1.00 Toe Slippers in the city. J. H. Black & Son.

There was a heavy frost last night,
but so far as learned no serious damage was done. There was enough to whiten walks, tops of sheds and the grass.

SEATS can be secured at Curtis & Co's
for the Ethel Tucker company.

This afternoon Charles Winup, of Peoria, and Miss Bina Hatch, of Decatur, were granted a marriage license.

The Sabbath school class resolutions
read at the funeral of the late Mrs.
Greeley Dunston on Sunday afternoon will be found on the fourth page of this issue.

GEO. W. LEMLEY, grocer, Quincy, Ill., says: "We can't keep house without Burke's White Pine Balsam for coughs and colds."

COUNTY grown strawberries, canned fish and fruits and new potatoes, at Hanks & Patterson's family store, 143
South Water street.

Orders continue to come in at Wayne & Anderson's for their famous Champion road carts. There are none better. See their display of fine buggies.

The prime favorites with the ladies are the celebrated Haines Bros., sold by O. B.
Prescott, who carries a full line of musical instruments and new sheet music.

Reduced prices for fine furniture still continue at Dushman & Meyer's double store, in Haworth Block. No trouble to show goods.

The largest invoice of fireworks ever brought to this city is now on display at Oretors & Payne's Confectionery, 229
Opera Block. 8-dit

SUNDAY night a milk got into Charley Stearns's chicken house, near the Sangamon, northeast of the city, and killed 48
spring chickens he intended to bring to Decatur on Monday and sell at $3 a dozen.
The milk caught each chick by the throat
and smothered the blood out of it.

We have the best $2.00 Ladies' Goat
and Kid Shoes in the city. 9-dit

J. H. BLACK & SON.
YOU CAN BUY CHOICE SUGAR-
CURED BACON, WITHOUT CLOTH OR PA-PER WRAPPINGS, OF IMBODEN
BROS. 8-dit

JUSTICE STAVES heard the testimony of Mrs. M. B. Hall and others against
Ed. Haddock, and decided that the accused was guilty of using offensive language. He was fined $5 and the usual trimmings.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla, and other blood-purifying roots, combined with solids of Potassium and Iron. Its control over scrofulous diseases is unequalled by any other medicine.

J. H. BLACK & SON'S Jack Knife Shoes
are the best in the city—only $2. 9-dit

E. B. PRATT is making quite a success of his new lively steed, on North Church street. He has six new vehicles, single rigs and two open carriages for families and his horses are gentle and reliable at all times.

JOS. J. WEILER, Cleveland, Ohio, says:
"I have never had a preparation that has giving such universal satisfaction as Athleporos—especially for rheumatism. It can be recommended with a clear conscience."

See the J. H. Black & Son Jack Knife
Shoes. 9-dit

SATURDAY evening near Bearsdale two little sons of Constable Henry Ferrell were having a picnic riding a Jersey cow.
Both were thrown off and Willie Ferrell
had his left arm broken above the elbow.

REV. J. F. STOUT, Danville, Ill., says:
"The universal testimony of our friends is that Burke's White Pine Balsam for coughs and colds works like a charm."
Price 50c.

A GRAND musical treat will be given at the African M. E. Church, Wednesday evening, June 10th. A concert consisting of vocal and instrumental music, &c. Admission, 15 cents; children, 10 cents.

As our friends will say, our trade has increased till we are the leading Shoe Dealers in Decatur. J. H. Black & Son.
Let's that $100,000 price for the house at J. H. Black & Son? 9-dit

J. JOLLS, a Springfield man, is in Decatur looking for a horse stolen from him by a band of gypsies. He has learned that the band is headed for Decatur. The officers are ready to nab the thieves and horse.

CURTIS & PAYNE will give a grand display of fireworks in front of their Confectionery on the night of July 4th. 229
Opera Block. 9-dit

THIRTY lessons in writing for $3.00, at Central Business College. Lessons missed can be made up. Call and examine student's progress. 6-6

A raw more scholars can be accommodated in Rev. J. J. Schell's German classes at College of Music. 3-11

Blue Serge Suits worth $18.00, now going at $12.00 a suit at John Irwin's
White Front clothing sale. 5-11

LADIES, you can get Toe Slippers at from 75c to $1.00, at Barber & Baker's.
2-dit

We have the best Gent's $2 Shoes in the city, and a 75c jack knife given with them. J. H. Black & Son. 9-dit

The Tuscola Post Office.
Postmaster H. R. Ingraham, of Tuscola, has forwarded his resignation to Washington, to take effect June 30. Mr.
Ingraham's term does not expire for two years yet, but he chose to resign on account of having taken charge of the Douglas county creamery. He has made a faithful and efficient officer for the past six years. Ex-Mayor Davis and Martin
V. Daggett are applicants for the office and one or the other will probably get it.

NORMAN'S GIFT DRAWING.

List of the Lucky Numbers Drawn at the Opera House.

Fred Norman's sixth annual donation drawing came off to-day as advertised, at the opera house, in the presence of a large number of patrons of the Norman barber shop and laundry. During the last year nearly 50,000 prize tickets were distributed among the patrons of the place, each customer who had got 25 cents worth of work done at one time getting a numbered ticket. The drawing to-day was conducted in a manner entirely satisfactory to everybody. Below is given a full and correct list of all the lucky numbers.

THE PRIZES.
No. 22,957 drew the solid gold full jeweled gent's stem-winding watch.
No. 15,032 drew a Fastard organ.
No. 32,872 drew a solid gold, full jeweled lady's gold watch.
No. 43,871 drew a Champion road cart.
No. 25,037 drew a Diana double-barrel
break-loading shotgun.
No. 43,035 drew a No. 3 "Fast Mail"
cooking stove.
No. 42,641 drew a fine meerschaum
pipe.
No. 32,654 drew a fine meerschaum
cigar holder.

OTHER PRIZE NUMBERS.
The following numbers entitle each holder to one box of cigars—50 in a box:
43005 43075 43550 43016 43017
43015 44014 43123 44101 39851
42006 10056 42123 42008 44195
14821 42193 918 8720 42078
43506 43771 14438 44714 41961
42259 17544 42261 43101 20580
42248 44139 44071 5584 5113
39823 43516 43413 42095 44358
42601 42735 14681 19818 24028
43187 43327 43552 11520 2880

The County Board.
The regular June meeting of the board of supervisors convened in the county clerk's office this afternoon. It being the first meeting of the year, a temporary organization was effected by electing H.
Mauecke as chairman, James Freeman,
R. H. Woodcock and Joseph Tucker were appointed a committee on credentials.
The sessions will be held at the council
rooms, as all of the court rooms are occupied this week.

Hon. A. T. Hill was re-elected chairman of the board by acclamation.

Last Night's Fire.
The alarm of fire at 10 o'clock last night was caused by the partial destruction of James Brummell's home at No.
1171 North Main street, near the wind mill.

The fire up of gasoline from a fluid stove started the fire which got beyond control. The Chemical engine and hose wagon were there in double quick time and the Chemical crew saved the property from total destruction. Some valuable time was lost owing to the remote location of the house and in giving the alarm. The interior of the dwelling was badly charred. Mrs. Brummell was so badly frightened that she was thrown into convulsions. A doctor attended her.
Brummell is a colored man, who once before had to fight fire at a house he occupied in the third ward. Loss, $50; no insurance.

Paragon Social Party.
Last night Miss Sue Hickman gave a farewell party to her many Decatur friends at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J.
A. Close, and it was a delightful social party. Superb refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, and various parlor games with vocal and instrumental music afforded pleasant entertainment. There were present Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Haworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. W.
B. Chambers, Mesdames B. K. Durfee
and G. M. Wood, Mesdames Lucille, Mabel and Daisy Durfee, Ada Lower, Jennie
Wells, Sarah and Louise Boyd, Marie
Ferriss, Lida Moore, Annie Prather, Mary
Voorhies, Mamie Wood, Fannie Sherman, Florence Adams, and Mesdames Henry Fra-ther, Giles Warren, Ed. Alexander, Walter Lower, Dick Roberts, James Roberts, Lou, Griswold, Smith Crowder, Harry Howard, George, Will Wood, Will Holton, Tom, McKinley, Sherman Mc-Clelland and Will Roberts.

The Prettiest Landau.
It is owned by Mr. J. B. Bullard, the undertaker, and it is a veritable beauty
on wheels since it came out of Wayne & Anderson's carriage works, where it was thoroughly overhauled, refurnished with expensive upholstering goods and refitted throughout, having been touched up and re-painted by that artist, W. J. Wayne, whose good taste is famous. This Bullard Landau with its throw back top is the carriage once owned by Harry Lin-ner, and it cost a big bunch of cash.
There is no one finer in the west, and it is good enough for royalty itself in its present regal condition. The Landau was kept on the go continually on Commencement day until late at night. It can be had for calls, receptions, weddings, parties, funerals or any other purpose.

This forenoon the Presbyterian Sabbath school children got aboard the street car and had a jolly free ride to Oakland Park, where all members of the school are participating in a picnic. It is the dedicatory picnic, and as the weather is pleasant, it is a big success.

Mortuary.
The funeral of the late John B. McDonald, Sr., took place last evening at 4 o'clock from the family residence, No.
243 South Franklin street, and was attended by a large number of friends of the departed and of the family. Deceased was a veteran soldier and many comrades were there to pay their last respects to the dead. The services were conducted by Rev. D. P. Dunn. About the casket were placed a number of beautiful floral offerings. The remains were interred in Greenwood with military honors by captain Durfee. The pallbearers were W. W. Mason, A. T. Grist, Lewis Mackenzie, John Millenburgh, Joseph B. Wine-brenner and George S. Simpson.

The Mattison Company's tile factory was consumed by fire Sunday night, involving a loss of $16,000; insured for $5,000, in the Phoenix, Niagara, Hartford, London Commercial and Boston Manufacturers. It was caused by gas explosion in one of the kilns. The company will rebuild.

To our Cheap Sale competitors we would say, "Lay on, McDuff, and don't be the who first cries enough." J. H.
Black & Son, the popular shoe dealers,
have the lead in trade, and they shall continue to hold it.

Excursions.
To the west, northwest and southwest every year via the P. D. & E. R. R. The P. D. & E. line runs Pullman day coaches and reclining cars to the coast, to the P. D. & E. R. R., Colorado, California, New Mexico, and all points west. The rate via this line is unequalled by any other line. Those contemplating a trip to the coast or to the west to H. W. Shimer, ticket agent, Union Depot, for information as to the different routes, through time and connections. June 5-imo

Out $800.
The authorities at Washington are informed of the thievery of the postmaster at Lewiston, Idaho, who has succeeded in getting $20,000 of the government's cash.
He has left for Canada. The fellow worked the Decatur postoffice among others,
and succeeded in getting $800 out of it.
As postmaster he sent six different orders here, each for $100, with vouchers and papers all straight and regular. Then he got the National Bank folks to go to the office, get the money and put it in the bank to his credit, the thief, of course, using a fictitious name, and informing the bank that he intended soon to locate in Decatur. After the $800 had been procured, he simply drew on the bank for the entire amount, and had it sent to him at Lewiston, and being the postmaster he could manipulate the scheme to suit himself, with little fear of detection. As the vouchers, numbers and orders were all regular the Decatur and other postoffices victimised in the same manner, could not do otherwise in the absence of cause for suspicion, than fork over the cash. Postmaster Lytle has telegraphed full particulars of the methods used here to get the money, and he has got credit at Washington for the full amount. Government officials are after the Lewiston man and will doubtless recover most of the money, and send him to the penitentiary for a long term.

Base Ball Park is a Go.
Through the efforts of Harry Starr and Charley Schroll, Decatur is soon to have enclosed base ball grounds and some fine exhibition games will be given. They have leased four acres of James Millikin's pasture land, near the end of West Wil-ham street, south of Eldorado street, and will proceed at once to fit it up for use.
It will be enclosed with a tight board fence seven feet high, and an amphitheatre for the crowds will be provided.
Schroll and Starr are enthusiastic lovers
of the sport and both are good players.
They have a good amateur nine and will strengthen it by hiring ball players from a distance. They will need a little help from the people to make the enterprise a success, and will ask contributions of some from 25 cents up to $5 and $10 from those who would like to have the Park a fixture. The managers intend to have a club here on July 1st from Springfield or Peoria.

"You Don't Say So."
J. D. Irwin, conductor on the Wabash
Railway, and his engineer, Douglas Hunt, started "The Sea of Ice" brought their wives over Saturday to spend Sunday in Danville. It is thought that this was only a ruse of the boys to introduce their wives to a live, beautiful city, and get them in a notion of moving over—Danville News.

The parties have returned to this city,
and they say if they are ever caught in slow-going Danville again, may they be forever banished from the beautiful, bustling, stirring city of Decatur, with its cozy homes, beautiful streets and lawns,
and the headquarters for 600 to 700 Wabash employes, with more-a-coming from Tilton and Danville.

A big train load of Decatur people went to Peoria early this morning on the dollar excursion train over the Illinois Midland road. The excursion was managed by Tom Peniwell for the benefit of James' Chapel.

Lost Letters Found.
The Springfield News states that on last Saturday Postmaster Selby was presented by Messrs. James McCoelaland and
E. S. McDermott, residents of Curran, in Sangamon county, with a basket nearly full of mail which was found on the former's farm beside a straw stack, where it had been rooted by a sow and her litter of pigs. A number of valuable papers were among the papers and letters, one being a draft for $1,000, payable to M. T.
Redmond and drawn by an Iowa bank,
and a number of certificates of membership of some secret orders, etc. The documents now all bear date of April 7th and 8th, and it is said as the opinion of the postmaster of this city that it is more than likely that they were taken from the east-bound train on the Wabash on the evening of the 8th of April. The papers and letters were neatly tied into packages after having been examined and filed of their valuable contents by the thieves.
The letters will be forwarded to their destination and the postoffice inspector at Chicago having been notified will no doubt inaugurate a thorough investigation.

Stolen—$10 Reward.
A chestnut sorrel mare was stolen near Springfield on Saturday, supposed to be by a tramp. The mare is very sore in the feet, hoofs broken off short; fore feet shed; right fore foot badly split. $10
and necessary expenses will be paid for the return of the thief and mare, or for the mare alone. Address the City Marshal, Springfield, Ill.

A Splendid Display.
Mr. A. Kramer, at the corner of East
Main and Franklin streets, has a magnificent display of superior carriages, buggies, phaetons and road carts, the finish and style of each being first-class in every respect. It is but justice to state that Mr. Kramer's stock is among the best in the west as all will readily admit on visiting his establishment and viewing his attractive display. The various styles of vehicles sell at moderate figures. It is always wise to purchase a good vehicle,
made at home, for you can be certain the workmanship is good and the price just.
Give Mr. Kramer a call.

Respectful Our.
Yesterday J. H. Bean & Son, of this city, who have been engaged in the manufacture of a patent hay rake and stacker
in the Store building for several years,
made a complete outfit to Beckwith & Quinn, of Wyoming Territory, which cost the visitors $120. B. & S. have a large ranch in Wyoming and gather 8,000 tons of hay each year. They came here from Chicago to see Mr. Bean's invention, and they bought an outfit at once. The Bean hay rakes and stackers are a success, and have been sent as far west as California.

The Ladies of Slapp's Chapel will give a festival and social at the church on Thursday evening of this week, to which they invite everybody. Strawberries, ice cream and other refreshments will be served. Admission free. 9-dit

Ladies' French Kid Hand Sewed Walking Shoes just received at Powers & Haworth's. 6-11

We prefer to write our own advertisements, as we think it is always best to tell the truth. Barber & Baker. 2-dit

It seems too good, and yet 'tis true,
You always get a jacket at 25c.
J. H. Black & Son. 9-dit

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

May Term, 1885—Judge J. W. Wil-kin Presiding.

TUESDAY, JUNE 9.
Court convened Monday afternoon at three o'clock. The docket of the day and to-day:
COMMON LAW DOCKET.
John Sheehy vs. Rachel R. Gallagher; assault. Suit dismissed for failure on part of plaintiff to comply with order of court to file a cross bond.
John H. Hurrell vs. Anna and August Hahn; trespass on the case. Motion to prosecute as a poor person overruled, and rule on plaintiff to file cross bond by June 11.
M. Pettigill & Co. vs. Lucy A. Drake; attachment. Trial by jury pending.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Judge Wilkin arrived yesterday at 3 o'clock and at once opened court.
W. H. Starr is in Cincinnati to-day on business.
Judge Greer paid the REPUBLICAN
a visit a call last evening.
Mrs. McCord, of Lincoln, is visiting G.
D. Randolph and family.
Sandra Lettingwell is doing clerical
work in the office of the county treasurer.
James H. Parker and R. W. Wilcox, of Marion, were in the city last evening.
Ed. Kennedy, the noted pessimist and Cincinnati commercial traveler, is in the city interviewing tobaccoists.
Mr. and Mrs. M. Grady and Mrs. Cooper, of Marion, were at the St. Nicholas yesterday.

Mark Oliver has disposed of his interest in the lumber company at Fargo, Dakota, and will remove to Wichita, Kansas.
Miss Sallie Langdon, an accomplished musician from Bloomington, is the spirited pianist at the Ethel Tucker dime show.

Ford Greer spent Sunday and Monday in the city. He is now superintendent of the street car line at Lafayette, to which city he returned to-day.
Harry Lytle, late money order clerk at the postoffice, has gone to Wichita, Kan., on a visit. He may secure employment as a clerk and remain there.

Dr. J. N. Billa left last evening for Pineville, Perry county, by way of St. Louis, to be present at the sale of delinquent lands and lots for taxes.

Ans. Johnson, formerly clerk at Linn &
Scruggs, has quit traveling for a New York house, and will locate at Kiowa, in the southwestern part of Kansas, where he and his brother will open a general store. Kiowa is near the Indian Territory. Ans. says the outlook is favorable, and he hopes to grow up with the country and become a wealthy merchant. Success to him.

"Two Orphans" To-Night.

The Ethel Tucker dime dramatic company presented "The Sea of Ice" before a large audience last night under unfavorable circumstances, but in the last act
Miss Tucker and her support came out strongly, and sent the people home pleased with the entertainment. Miss Tucker is a talented actress of pleasing appearance and became a favorite. The play for to-night is "The Two Orphans."
Prices 10, 15 and 25 cents.

Wm. Getz, the man who claims to have been stabbed by his father-in-law, Jesse Anstett, the night before last Thanksgiving Day, is in the city. He is here to attend the prosecution of Anstett for assault
to murder. Getz lives in Shelby county.
He says his wife is in Decatur, living with a colored man.

Tourists' Excursion.
Tickets via the "Fisco Line" are now on sale at all principal Railroad ticket offices for Denver, Col., and return; Colorado Springs and return; Pueblo and return; Las Vegas,
Hot Springs, N. M., and return; Eureka Springs,
Ark., and return; Rogers, Ark., and return.
Also Round Trip Land Exploring Tickets for Kingman, Kan., and return; Fredonia, and return; Neosho, Mo., and return; Ozark, Ark., and return, at rates as low as by any route.
Don't forget this, and be sure and buy your tickets over the popular St. Louis and San Francisco City. For further particulars, information with maps, time tables, pamphlets, etc., call on or address GEO. J. LAWRENCE, Travel Agent Fisco Line, 232 North Water street, Decatur, Ills. 9-dit

PASTRY WITHOUT BUTTER.

The American pie has been subjected to more unjust abuse from foreign writers than any other food of our distinctive producer, if we except the recent tirade against the American hog. And yet we cannot say that it has been altogether
undeserved, because of the villainous compound, thick, hard and heavy, that is too often made to do duty as a "crust,"
and which by courtesy is called "pastry."
Light, tender, flaky and digestible pie-crust and all kinds of pastry can be made most readily by the use of Royal Baking Powder without any butter, or with half the usual portion, if preferred, or with a small quantity of lard or other shortening as desired. Pie-crust thus made is much more wholesome and digestible, tender being more economical and easier prepared. In addition to saving all the butter, one-half the quantity of the crust is also dispensed with, as the crust is rolled that much thinner, the leavening qualities of the Royal Baking Powder swelling it to the requisite thickness. It drippings or lard be used, the Royal Baking Powder removes any unpleasant taste, rendering the crust as short, sweet, and pleasant as if made from the finest butter. Those who have the opportunity of trying the genuine home-made American pie will rejoice that by the aid of Royal Baking Powder in the pastry it can be made quite as digestible as it is delicious.

The Chicago Grain Market.
The following were the closing quotations in Chicago at noon to-day:
Wheat—88 1/2; June, 89 1/2; July, 92 1/2;
Aug., 94 1/2; 8-11.
Corn—41 1/2; June, 40 1/2; July, 40 1/2; Aug., 40 1/2; 31 1/2; 32 1/2; 33 1/2; 34 1/2; 35 1/2; 36 1/2;
Oats—33 1/2; June, 32 1/2; July, 28 1/2; Aug., 28 1/2; 29 1/2; 30 1/2; 31 1/2; 32 1/2; 33 1/2; 34 1/2;
Telephone Orders & Payne for the best Ice Cream in the city. To be had at confectioners. Telephone 104. 229 Opera
Block. 9-dit

JOHN KELLY'S Rochester, N. Y. Shoe
is the popular shoe now for ladies.
9-dit

MARRIED.

In this city at the residence of Cain Adams,
on Sunday evening, June 7th, by Judge S. E.
Greer, Mr. JOHN A. JONES and Miss AGNES
THOMAS, both of Decatur, Ill.

In the city by Rev. B. Curtis, J. P., June 8th,
STEPHEN B. RUDER and Miss EMILY K. MATHEW, both of Mt. Zion.
The bride is 16 and the groom 19.

DIED.

In Wheatland township, on the evening of June 8th, of lung fever, HENRY DECKHARDT, aged 64 years.

Rev. J. H. Landgraf will officiate at the funeral, which will take place Wednesday, at 2 p. m., from the residence, near Elwin. Burial at Salem graveyard.

BACKACHE, stitches in the side, inflation
and soreness of the bowels, are symptoms of a disordered state of the digestive and assimilative organs, which can be promptly and thoroughly corrected by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. As dinner pills, and as aids to digestion, they have no equal. They cure constipation.

PARENTS, if you want your children to have a friend that will stay with them
for a life, let them be taught how to write.
See circular containing special reduction offered by Central Business College—30 lessons for $3.00. 6-6

LINN & SCRUGGS

New Spring Goods
NOW OFFERING.
DRY GOODS,
WALL PAPER,
CURTAINS,
CARPETS.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN
Black and Colored Silks
AND FRENCH AND AMERICAN
DRESS GOODS.

An Attractive Assortment of
HOSIERY, GLOVES AND CORSETS
At Very Low Prices.

A Complete Stock of
SUMMER DRESS GOODS, JERSEYS, Spring Wraps, Parasols, Ribbons, Dress Trimmings, Laces

